

Sprint 2 Report

Actions to stop doing:

We need to stop slacking off on weekends since that's the time when most of us are free. We need to stop not commenting code because other people will get confused with what's going on. We need to start prioritizing features better because some stuff we don't need right now so we shouldn't worry too much about it.

Actions to start doing:

We need to be more active in working on the project. We should be spending more time outside of our group meetings. We also need to find a way to organize our files better because adding new frameworks is making our structure messy and confusing (this sprint we fixed this, but for future sprints we need to be more aware to prevent this issue).

Actions to keep doing:

We should continue working in pairs because it seems to be effective in learning for us. Attendance for our group meetings have been good so we need to keep that going.
